Wedding Bells

BELL — HOLMES

On the afternoon of October 15 at 4:30 p.m. at St. Martin's Anglican church, Fort St. John, B.C., was a lovely double ring ceremony when Muriel, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Holmes spoke her vows to James the fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bell of Hardisty.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Sergeant assisted by Rev. A. Sherward.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a french blue tailored suit with pink accessories and navy shoes. Her only jewelry was pearl drop earrings. Her corsage was of red roses and in her hand she carried a prayer book.

Supporting the happy couple were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stork, recent bride and groom, the latter a Hardisty lad, also. Her matron of honor wore a mauve tailored suit with deeper tones of purple for accessories and a corsage of roses and carnations.

The ushers were Floyd Holmes and Terry Bachelor.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Holmes chose a plum shade crepe silk, fashioned in afternoon vogue with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow gladioli.

Mrs. Bell, mother of the groom wore a smart grey pleated jersey dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

The bridal march was played by Mrs. Sherward. During the signing of the register Miss Mary Holmes, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Legion Hall. A four tier wedding cake surrounded with rose buds centered the bride and groom's table.

Rev. Sherward proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom replied suitably. After good health and happiness was bestowed on the young couple, the evening was given over to a wedding dance in the Elks Hall.

Following the dance they left for their honeymoon to Hardisty and other points. Upon return the happy couple will make their home at Fort St. John where James is employed with the Tri-province Oil Co.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bell and their daughter Linda from Hardisty.

JACKART — STEELE

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the chapel of Central United Church in Calgary on September 5, when Rev. Hamilton united in marriage Margaret Wilson Steele, the only daughter of Mrs. Jean Steele and the late Mr. Clark Steele of Fabany, to Mr. Peter Jackart, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Jackart of Calgary.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. W. Walker. Miss Nina McMurray was bridesmaid and the groom was attended by Mr. Robert Geddes.

The bride's wedding gown, an heirloom of the groom's family and Margaret being the fourth bride to wear it, was of bridal satin in princess lines. It was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves and semi-train. Crepe appliqued lilies adorned the front bodice, each shoulder down center front and hemline. The waistline veil with deep lace trim brought of white and crystal beads. Her accessories were a rhinestone necklace and earrings and she carried a nosegay of red baby-heart roses and white carnations, and a white linen handkerchief with deep lace trim brought from Scotland by Margaret's great aunt (who also attended the wedding).

The bridesmaid's dress was of pink taffeta with net yoke. She wore matching mittens and a shoulder length veil with pleated coronet. She carried a nosegay of yellow roses and blue carnations, her only jewellery being an old fashioned pendant and pearl earrings.

The ushers were Keith Wakefield and Harvey Grieve.

During the signing of the register Evelyn English played "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Steele chose for her daughter's wedding, a black suit with pin stripe and green accessories. Her corsage was of baby yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a black petit point dress and corsage of yellow roses and black accessories.

A reception was held in the Commodore Cafe for the immediate family after which the bride and groom left for a honeymoon to Lethbridge.

Glen-Coa Cleanings

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Marie Eydson on their new little son.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Gulbraa and Mr. and Mrs. L. Peterson motored to Veteran last week for a day.

Mr. D. Taylor spent last week in Hardisty hospital.

Mr. Sheffield of Wainwright has been a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. G. Pedel.

Congratulations to Sigmund Gulbraa on his splendid records in the Grain Club and to Nathan Fuder who did well in the judging competition.

NOTICE

The next meeting of the Home and School Association will be held on Monday, November 23. This change in date from the regular meeting was found necessary because of the United Church supper.

Card of Thanks

For fruit, flowers, cards and kind messages while in hospital, my most cordial thanks.

Sincerely,
Nancy O. Parke.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hill Honored at Shower

Strawberry Plains school was prettily decorated on Friday last for a miscellaneous shower sponsored by the Local W.I. in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hill.

When the guests of honor arrived they were escorted to "reserved seats" by Mrs. Knute Gulbraa while all present joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." Community singing followed and Miss Maureen Dempsey gave an enjoyable piano solo.

Mrs. Tomlinson and Mrs. Jackson organized games and contests—one of the most amusing consisted of a group of ladies which were charmingly modeled by Messrs. N. Tomlinson, E. Jackson, A. Cairns, E. Tomlinson, John Hill, F. Gardiner and P. Funk. Mr. Cairns was judged to be the most alluring model.

More community singing followed and then Mr. and Mrs. Hill were given make-believe uniforms and provided with a knife and scissors with which to operate upon a "patient" swathed in sheets and lying on a table. The "operation" certainly proved to be a success because a grand array of useful and beautiful gifts were soon disclosed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill were assisted in the "operation" by Mrs. Hugh Tomlinson. When all the gifts had been opened and admired, both Mr. and Mrs. Hill expressed their sincere thanks. A bountiful lunch followed and dancing was enjoyed for the next two hours.

FOR SALE—oil burning Fairbanks Morse heater, good condition. For particulars see Ernie Owen. 13-20c

Northern Nuggets

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Currie the end of last week were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Courser (nee Frances Brickman) and children of Ponoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Savage were city visitors last week. We hear that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Prior were lucky winners at the last Kinsella bingo, winning a gold watch and a set of steel knives respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Currie are round about the country these days making the annual appeal for the British and Foreign Bible Society.

The Health Clinic will be held at Albert School this month on Thursday, the 26th—please note change of week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Guy were Orbindale visitors last week-end, Mr. R. V. Prior returning to the city with them.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Archibald have been visiting in Winnipeg. Orbindale pupils are selling tickets on a turkey to raise Christmas funds.

Mr. and Mrs. R. McRoberts and family spent the week-end in Edmonton visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Cox and girls.

Don't forget — The Triangle Association meeting after the annual FUA meeting at Albert, Monday, November 16, Buffalo Coulee W.I. at the home of Mrs. E. B. Allen, Thursday, Nov. 19, Dance at Albert, Nov. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ramsay accompanied by Mrs. W.D. Ramsay motored south on Saturday to Elkhorn, Olaton and Innisfail to visit their respective relatives and friends, returning home on Sunday.

Fair Attendance At Irma Remembrance Day Service

We would like to compliment our local branch of the Canadian Legion for the effort made to make the Remembrance Day Service here on November 11 a really fine one.

A good number of ex-servicemen were in attendance and although the body of the hall should have been really filled it was nice to see a fair sized gathering there.

The roll call was read by Cde. K. Coffin and the wreath presented by Cdes. A. Glasgow, S. Congdon and A. Larson. The offering was taken up by Cdes. R. McFarlane and F. Jack. The United Church choir gave two fine anthems, "Come Unto Me" and "Happy is the Nation Whose God is the Lord."

The Rev. Moorhouse of Wainwright was in charge of the service. He read from the 5th chapter of St. Matthew and reminded us that we should mourn on Remembrance Day for the evil in our time which has made war possible, for the material things such as natural resources that have been squandered for war.

For the homes and families bereft by war. He also said that Remembrance Day brings a feeling of peace — especially to those who have given great sacrifice. In conclusion Mr. Moorhouse reminded us that Remembrance Day must bring gratitude so that none of us forget what we owe to those who bought our freedom.

Easterly Echoes

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ewart who have been living at the coast for the last two years have moved onto the former Deitrich farm in the Battle Heights district.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fenton attended the many Purebred Cattle Sales in the neighboring towns during the last week. They report prices were very good.

Mr. Julius Stougaard attended the Purebred Cattle Sale in Camrose on Friday.

Quite a crowd attended the sale of Mr. Fusco on Friday last. Among the former residents of the district there were Mrs. R. S. Fitzpatrick and Mr. Ben Oldham.

Mrs. James Fenton of Wainwright spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Enger.

Mrs. P. Jackart of Calgary is visiting her mother Mrs. C. Steele.

We are sorry to report that the 6 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holt, nee M. King, of Edmonton, is ill with polio. We do wish him a full recovery.

Mr. James Donohue finished up some plowing on his farm Monday, November 9.

The Roseberry FUA Annual meeting will be held at Roseberry School on Wednesday, November 18 at 8 p.m. A good attendance is requested.

Those from this district who attended the school at Wainwright recently were Messrs. R. King, J. Savard, H. Oldham and W. Sanders.

Recent Excavations In Manitoba Shed New Light On Canadian History

MONTREAL.—Recent excavations at Lockport, Man., by a National Museum archaeological expedition shed new light on Canadian history prior to the arrival of the white man. The excavations, some 18 miles northwest of Winnipeg, indicate that Indians may have come to Canada much earlier than was supposed by some authorities.

Jerry Zaboraki, a member of the archaeological party, said here the excavations disclosed five Indian villages, built one on top of the other.

The earliest village, which may date back 10,000 years, was in-

Firing Range Now Under Construction

The RCAF's new air weapons firing range, now under construction at Grand Centre, approximately 180 miles northeast of Edmonton, Alta., is expected to be ready for use by the summer of 1954.

The first of 45 major buildings at the new air base—which is part of the air firing range—are nearing completion and will shortly be taken over by the air force. One fighter squadron will operate from it on a rotation basis to give all squadrons air weapons training.

In addition, a completely self-contained townsite development is planned to provide living accommodation for approximately 2,000 air men and technical personnel who will be training and working there.

The range area, which extends over portions of Alberta and Saskatchewan will be used to train pilots in air-to-air rocket firing. The new site is not a guided missile range insofar as ground-launched weapons are concerned.

The site, which is easily accessible to railroad communications, will take care of all foreseeable developments in air weapons in the immediate future.

Under the lease agreements with the Albert and Saskatchewan governments certain provisions have been made for periodic exploitation of the natural developments of the 4,900-square mile area.

POLICE CHIEF GIVEN TICKET
WINNIPEG, Man.—Police Chief Chris Elmdorf of suburban East Kildonan, visiting in Winnipeg, got a ticket for illegal parking. "It's nice to see the city officers are on their toes," Elmdorf said as he paid a $1 fine.

ALL THE COMFORTS
BASSANO, Alta.—A contingent of Calgary pleasant hunters provided their own accommodation when they found hotels full. They installed bunks in a special building and the hotel and sleeping in it in the field.

Pulp, Paper Industry Seen For Sask. Through Signed Agreement

REGINA.—An agreement has been signed between the Saskatchewan government and the Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills Limited of Quebec City, which may result in the ultimate construction of a pulp mill in the province. It was announced today in a joint statement from Hon. J. H. Brooksbank, minister of natural resources and H. D. Ruthman, secretary to the company.

The agreement gives the company a one-year option on a 5,000 square mile area of pulp wood timber land in the vicinity of Canby lake, which is situated about 80 miles northeast of Prince Albert, and provides that the company shall pay a ground rental fee of $10,000 on the area for the option year.

Under the terms of the agreement Anglo-Canadian will, on or before September 30, 1954, advise the Government whether or not it will accept the option on the leased area. Should the company accept the option the company would thereby agree to commence construction of a mill by June 1, 1956, and to spend $5,000,000 on actual construction during the succeeding year.

The agreement further provides that the mill will have an initial capacity to produce a minimum of 100,000 cords of pulpwood per year from spruce, jackpine and poplar stands in the leased area. To provide for normal expansion

APPETIZING RECIPES

APPLES-ON-A-STICK

Two cups sugar, ½ cup light corn syrup, ¼ cup water, 12 apples, 12 skewers, red coloring, few drops flavoring oil.

Select well-flavored red apples. Wash thoroughly and insert skewers in the blossom end.

Put sugar, corn syrup and water into a saucepan and cook, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking, without stirring, until temperature of 300° degrees is reached. Any sugar crystals thrown on the sides of the pan should be washed away with a wet cloth. Cooking should be slow so that syrup will not darken.

Remove syrup from fire and set the saucepan into boiling water so the syrup will not cool and thicken. Add enough coloring to make the syrup a bright red. Add flavoring oil, peppermint, clove or cinnamon may be used. Holding the apple by the skewer, plunge it into the hot syrup, drawing it out quickly and twisting it until the syrup runs down to the stick and spreads smoothly over the apple. Stand the skewer in a small rack or vase so the apple does not touch anything while hardening. A rapid dipping is necessary or the syrup will become too stiff for coating. Make plenty.

Beaver In Saskatchewan Create Problem

REGINA.—The beaver population in Saskatchewan has increased tremendously throughout rural areas this year, creating a nuisance problem difficult to control.

It was revealed by E. L. Paynter, provincial game commissioner.

In order to reduce future losses of valuable tree growth, damage to roads and crops through flooding, regulations protecting the beaver have been considerably relaxed, providing greater opportunity for trappers to take part in the beaver harvest.

The provincial game commissioner said that permits to trap and seals can be obtained from the southern district office of the department of natural resources, located in the provincial administration building, Regina. Trappers are required to have written permission from the landowner upon whose land they plan to trap beaver, along with details of the land location and the number of beaver they expect to trap during the season.

Canada Goose Vainly Protects Mate From Coyote

N. Shultz, a Montana hunter, told of a valiant, desperate attempt by a Canada goose to drive off a slinking coyote from its badly injured mate near Rosemary.

Mr. Shultz finished off the coyote and now is trying to nurse the bird back to health. He has also applied for permission from federal game authorities to take the goose back to his home at Fort Benton.

Shultz came upon the wildlife drama while driving toward a duck feeding ground north of Rosemary. He found a big coyote repeatedly charging the goose, only to be beaten off by the violence of the bird's hattering wings.

Mr. Shultz then saw the cause of the bitter battle. A female goose with a broken wing and other severe injuries was lying in the stubble.—Free Press Prairie Farmer.

Rebuilding And Replacement Process In Farm Machinery Is Rapid In Prairie Provinces

Recent figures studied by the Economics Division of the Department of Agriculture indicate that the post-war rebuilding of machinery inventories arising from wartime shortages of materials is almost complete in the Prairie Provinces but is still lagging to some extent in the rest of the country. Although the number of horses on farms has been declining steadily since about 1930, the drop has been much accelerated since the war.

Evidence provided by trends in farm machinery sales show that this rebuilding and replacement process has taken place more rapidly in the Prairie Provinces than elsewhere in Canada. While the value of all equipment sold reached a peak in 1952, tractor sales were at a high point in 1949 and have declined steadily since. Most of the drop in total sales is accounted for in the Prairie Provinces while sales were almost as high in the remainder of Canada in 1951 as in 1949. Sales in the remainder of Canada dropped considerably in 1952. The significance of these shifts in Prairie Provinces lies in the fact that machinery sales dropped considerably while the level of income in the hands of farmers was quite favorable and outstanding farm debt was declining.

In general since 1936, there has been considerable expansion in the portion of total expenditures on harvesting equipment, both grain and hay, and on miscellaneous equipment with a decline in the proportion spent on seeding and lifting equipment. The proportion spent on tractors has remained about constant over this period.

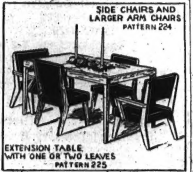

Haying and harvesting equipment has been almost wholly responsible for the increase in the total value of machinery sales from $217 million in 1949 to $250 million in 1952. Sales of heavy tillage equipment have risen considerably but these represent a small proportion of the total.

There has also been a marked shift back to standard type tractors reflecting considerable improvement in the design of this type in recent years. For example, 1952 sales of standard tractors were about 92.5 per cent of 1949 sales, while the row-crop type dropped to 33.3 per cent. Sales of the same type in 1949. In 1952 sales of the row-crop type were less than one-quarter of those of standard classification. There has been a large increase in the proportion of sales of tractors of the 3-4 plow and larger sizes between 1949 and 1952.

EXTENSION TABLE WITH ONE OR TWO LEAVES. PATTERN 225.

The flush finished and tapered legs of this modern dining table distinguish it at first sight as a strictly custom built job. The top is of walnut-surfaced plywood contrasting smartly with the edge frame and legs which are light pine. For use in a kitchen alcove or a snack room a more practical top would be one of the bright colored panel materials with plastic chair seats to match. The table is thirty-one and a half inches wide and four feet long. The construction drawings show each member separately and just how they go together. There are also large clear drawings for making the extension slides for those who want to use an extra leaf. The patterns are 35c each. Order 225 for the table and 224 for two types of chairs.

Use these four units wherever storage space is needed. They may be used as separate units or combined as found most convenient. As illustrated they form a handsome buffet and china cabinet with base sixty-three inches long. The drawers and door fronts are of three-quarter inch plywood with tops and framing of solid pine. There are many beautiful plywoods available at all local lumber yards and they come in a wide range of prices so before buying the material decide whether you want to use the cabinets for out-of-the-way storage or as decorative pieces. The directions on the pattern are illustrated with large three dimensional drawings. The pattern number is 226 and the price is 35c.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY —

A Rolling Stone

By MAUDE NORMAN

PASSING through the village, the girl stopped to listen to the girl talking to a group of men in front of the general store.

"Fifty dollars," she said, "I'll give fifty dollars to anyone who'll drive the trailer to Hopville."

The men were silent. Some glanced at the short, heavy figure of a man standing in the doorway, watching the girl with speculative eyes. Roller moved nearer.

"Come on, men, what do you say?" the girl urged. "Sam Peters, father helped you."

Peters nodded. "I'd sure like to," he muttered, "but it's against the rule. I'd be fined more than you'd pay."

"Why don't you drive yourself," the man in the door demanded, "instead of trying to bribe your neighbors to go against the Association?"

"Joe Collins, that's not fair," she cried. "I'm not trying to bribe, just trying to hire someone to drive me to Hopville. I promised Mr. Reynolds I'd have the field by Sunday. As for driving myself, I wish I could."

"If you'd be sensible and join the Association, you'd get a driver easy."

The girl flushed. "I have nothing to say about it. It's my father's farm—and stock. Can't you forget your rules for once?"

"They'd better not," Collins warned.

"Oh, what's the use?" she said, wearily. "You and your Association."

Roller moved forward. "I'll take the job, Miss."

Joe Collins swung around. "Who are you, butting in?"

The girl looked at Roller. He was tall and lanky, his old army jacket faded. His hair needed cutting but his eyes were steady.

"On your way, bum," Collins ordered.

The grey eyes turned slowly. "My business is with the young lady. And the name's Roller."

"It's quite a walk," the girl said, "and as you see, I can't drive."

Moving off, he looked at her bandaged hands.

"The barn caught fire. I was burned, getting the horses out."

"How'd it start?"

"I don't know. I'd better warn you, Mr. Roller. You face trouble, accepting my offer."

"I've seen trouble before," he drawled. "What's the set-up?"

He liked the set-up he saw. The farm, where they turned in before a sign on the barn. "Robert Stevens and Son, Breeders of Fine Horses."

One end of the barn was blackened by fire.

"I'm Emily Stevens," she said. "My father's in hospital. He fell from the roof."

"And Son?" he repeated.

"He died, over here."

"I'm sorry. Who is Collins?"

"Head of a Protective Association. My father refused to join. Said there was no need of protection around here."

She shrugged. "You see how the men fear him."

"Think he had a hand in the fire?"

"It doesn't matter what I think. The law requires evidence. He knows we need money. That is why I have to deliver the fifty."

MACDONALD'S

Canada's Standard Smoke

The buyer wants to enter her in the show."

After supper, Roller busted himself in the barn. He moved Bouncing Betty, the filly, to another stall.

"Are you an electrician?" Emily asked watching him arrange wires.

"I'm a little of everything. I've been wandering around the country, since I got out of service. You learn a lot."

When Emily had gone to the house, Roller sat in the shadows, his eyes fixed on the stall that had housed the filly. Hours passed, his eyes began to close, suddenly they flashed open; a darker shadow was merging with the shadows of the stall. Roller pressed something in his hand. There was a crash, a startled oath, lights flashed on Roller looked at the man, trapped by a wire gate.

"Found a horse of a different color, didn't you?" he grinned.

"Let me out," his prisoner pleaded. "I'll make it worth your while."

"Now who's the bringer?" Roller jeered. "Keep away from those wires. If I turn the juice on you'll dance plenty."

"You'll be sorry." A look in the man's eyes warned Roller. He jerked. "Keep away from those wires. If I turn the juice on you'll dance plenty."

"The name's James Martin," he interrupted. "Roller's just a nickname."

"James Martin," she said softly. "That's a nice name. I'll be back as soon as I call the sheriff."

"That's a nice name. I'll be back as soon as I call the sheriff."

Amazed At Growth Of Peace River Country

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta.—Spectacular changes 25 years have brought to the complexion of the Peace River Country were pointed up by A. E. Pequegnat, of Waterloo, Ontario, general manager of Mutual Life of Canada.

Last year in 1928, Mr. Pequegnat said he was amazed at the long strides Grande Prairie and district had taken. He said the growth and expansion of the town struck him particularly forcibly.

Accompanied by A. E. Rieder, actuary of the insurance company, the Eastern executive flew into Grande Prairie for a whirlwind tour of town and district with Ian McIntosh, the company's local representative.

Both officials found the number of fine homes and business establishments in the town particularly impressive.

Mr. Pequegnat commented that he felt Grande Prairie's progress had been built on a firm foundation and that its future looked "bright and secure."

Funny and Otherwise

"So you were in hospital 10 weeks? Must have been pretty ill."

"No, pretty nurse?"

Jones: "Good evening, old man. Thought I'd drop in and see about the umbrella you borrowed from me last week."

Brown: "I'm sorry, but I lent it to a friend of mine. Were you waiting for it?"

"Well, not for myself, but the fellow I borrowed it from says the owner wants it."

"You owe me six months' rent. You must get a new lodging."

"Go without paying you? Never!"

"Darling, if I were to die, would you marry again?" she asked.

"That's hardly a fair question."

"Why not?"

"If I were to say yes you wouldn't like it, and to say never again wouldn't sound nice."

"My rose!" he whispered tenderly, as he pressed her velvet cheek to his.

"My cake!" she said, as she nudged his whiskers.

"What do you wish, miss?" the waiter asked the glamorous blonde.

"I'll have soup, fish, chicken, vegetables, ice-cream and wine."

"And what is your wish, sir?" the waiter asked her escort.

"I wish I hadn't brought her."

said the fellow, sorrowfully.

On the way home from church father criticized the sermon, mother didn't like the organist, and their daughter thought the choir terrible.

With a shrill, instinct of fair play, the son chimed in with: "Well, I think it was a jolly good show for ten cents."

"But, madam," the registrar's clerk explained to a film actress applicant, "the law compels me to record all previous marriages before I issue a licence."

"Good gracious!" exclaimed the prospective husband, "and I've got a taxi waiting!"

Traveller: "Why do you keep that goldfish in his bowl on your desk?"

Manager: "Because it's a novelty to have something opening its mouth without making for a raise."

A lawyer was defending a man charged by his wife with desertion. For a time it looked as though it would be easy for the prosecution, but at the psychological moment the lawyer called the defendant to the witness-box. "Take off that bandage," he cried.

The man did so, exposing a black eye.

"Your honour," said the lawyer, "our defence is that this man is not a deserter. He's a refugee."

Canadian manufacturers employed a record 1,278,187 persons last year as compared with 1,268,375 in 1931.

North Battleford Farmer Specializes In Arabian Horses And Aberdeen-Angus Cattle

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask.—George Iverson, of the Prince district, isn't one to follow blindly what his neighbors are doing. When he has what he feels are good ideas, he follows them, and so far he has done pretty well.

George specializes in two breeds of animals, neither of which is the most popular of its kind, but has had marked success with each. In beef cattle he has done well with his Aberdeen-Angus strain, and in horses, he favors Arabians.

Anyone who has seen his fine black herd can see why he is proud of them. Their quality isn't just chance. It cost George good solid cash, in a day when that cash wasn't as plentiful as today, but his expenditure has paid real dividends.

His present herd sire, Craven's Eaton Marshall, pride of the 150 head of registered cattle, had for his grandsire, one of the greatest of all time in the Aberdeen-Angus field, the famous Earl Marshall. Craven's Eaton Marshall carries more of this famous strain than perhaps any other living bull.

George is almost as proud of his fine Arabians, which win prizes wherever he shows them. One of the first to bring these horses into Canada, and the first in Saskatchewan, the fine lines and good showing of the Iverson Arabians brings praise from all good horse lovers. Only this last summer, Mr. Iverson was winner of a trophy for the best showing in the hunter class at the North Battleford Fair, and he won it while riding one of his favorite Arabians.

An underwater mountain peak rising more than two miles from the ocean floor was recently discovered in the Pacific ocean, off the coast of Acapulco, Mexico.

Public Notice

Municipal District of Wainwright, No. 61

The Council wish to draw to the attention of all persons that under the Provisions of Bylaw No. 296 of the Municipal District of Wainwright, No. 61, passed the 10th day of August 1950 which reads in part.

No person or persons shall willfully burn stubble on any lands within the boundaries of the Municipal District of Wainwright, No. 61, at any time unless a Fire Permit under the authority of the Forests Act being chapter 43 of the Statutes of Alberta 1949, is issued.

This section of the said bylaw must be strictly adhered to, failing to obtain the necessary permit before any fire is started may result in prosecution under the provisions of said bylaw.

Kindly govern yourselves accordingly.

CHAS. WILBRAHAM,
Secretary-Treasurer.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

The present-day supply of electrical power to 21,384 Alberta farms has been made possible by the co-operation of the farmer, through his Rural Electrification Association; the Provincial Treasurer, representing the Government of Alberta; and privately-owned power companies.

THE FARMER, working through his association, acts as organizer and arranges for equipment and for private financial assistance or government assistance. Since 1947, 299 Rural Electrification Associations have been chartered under the Co-operative Associations Act, administered by the Department of Industries and Labor.

THE PROVINCIAL TREASURER, under the authorization of the Rural Electrification Revolving Fund Act, passed during the last Alberta Legislature session, grants loans from a fund of $10,000,000. In addition, the Provincial Treasurer can guarantee the borrowings of Rural Electrification Associations, provided interest on such loans does not exceed 3 1/2 percent over a maximum of 10 years. The Alberta Government has guaranteed borrowings of 192 associations for a total of $6,408,685. The government has made direct loans of $3,513,000 to some 80 Rural Electrification Associations.

THE POWER COMPANIES build and operate power lines at cost. Lines are built on an estimated cost basis; refunds are made when warranted by final cost figures.

Your government assists Alberta farmers with rural electrification, making every effort to expand high line facilities all over the province.

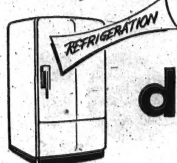

The availability of men and materials to build power lines is the only factor limiting your government's assistance to Rural Electrification Associations.
